

STAYMATES TO MAKE NOMINATING SPEECH

Callaghan Arranges With Illionis Friend to Do Act

BRENNAN THE SECONDER

Bryan to Do Stamping-- Speech at Monongahela Attracts Big Crowd

Fresh from a brief campaigning trip, in which he made public street addresses at Washington Monday night and at Monongahela Tuesday night, Hon. Edward Callaghan, Democratic candidate for President of the United States, this morning announced the name of the speaker who will nominate him at the Baltimore national convention. This is Hon. B. F. Staymates of Clinton, Illinois, a member of the Legislature of that State. Mr. Staymates' nominating speech will be seconded, Mr. Callaghan says, by William Brennan, Esq., of Pittsburg, after which William J. Bryan is to respond with another seconding speech, which is expected to complete the stampede that will give Mr. Callaghan the nomination.

Mr. Staymates, who is a veteran Democratic politician of national reputation, made the acquaintance of Mr. Callaghan in 1886, when the latter was prominent in the Pennsylvania Legislature of which he was then a member. In one of the State campaigns, Mr. Staymates was a stump speaker sent to Pennsylvania by the Democratic national committee and hearing of Mr. Callaghan's career in the Legislature asked to be assigned to Westmoreland and western counties of the State. This was done, and becoming acquainted with Mr. Callaghan, the two have been fast friends ever since.

This morning Mr. Callaghan received a letter from Mr. Staymates with whom he has been corresponding relative to the campaign, and in the letter was enclosed some clippings from the Pittsburg papers of interviews with Mr. Callaghan regarding some of the subjects and issues which were then paramount. So prophetic were some of Mr. Callaghan's utterances on certain issues which were then looming up on the distant horizon, that history, he says, is simply repeating itself.

"I met with a great ovation in Monongahela last night," said Mr. Callaghan, in referring to his speech there. "When I stepped off the car the street was lined with people. I couldn't find a soap box handy for a platform, so the Socialists kindly provided me with this street platform, from which I made my speech. I was well received and given all kinds of encouragement."

"I was assured yesterday by one of the Pennsylvania delegates to the National convention that after Wilson is out of the way the whole Pennsylvania delegation will swing over to me in the convention."

Mr. Callaghan states that he will be occupied with his personal affairs for a few days, after which he expects to devote his entire time to the campaign.

Spatafore Acquitted

Ellsworth Man Released From Murder Charge Following Trial

Shortly before 9 o'clock Tuesday night the jury in the homicide case which had been on trial in the criminal court at Washington brought in a verdict acquitting Frank Spatafore of the murder of Tony Lombardi at Ellsworth in January. The case was given to the jury shortly before 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Lombardi was killed in a fight in a boarding house at Ellsworth. Spatafore was charged with having fired the shot which caused Lombardi's death. His defense was that he did not fire the shot although he admitted he was present when the trouble occurred.

LAD LOSES IN BATTLE FOR LIFE

Plucky Eight-Year-Old, With Leg Off, Unable to Ward off Death

SOUND SITTING ON LOG

After battling for his life two days Charles Albert a plucky 8-year old lad, and the son of Charles Albert of Fayette City, died last night at the Memorial Hospital, Monongahela. The boy had had his right leg taken off near the hip by a train at Fayette City.

The accident happened on Monday afternoon. The lad it is stated was playing about near his home. It is supposed he jumped on a freight car which, moving suddenly knocked him in under.

His leg severed the boy managed to draw himself to a log, where he was found sitting a few minutes later, holding the short stump of a limb. He talked readily. The injured member was dressed as well as possible and the lad hastened off to the hospital. He battled desperately for life but the shock proved too great.

CLASS PERFORMANCES GIVEN BY GRADUATES

Class Night Observed by High School Seniors-- Two Playlets Feature Program--History and Prophecy Read

Two comedy playlets were given this lass history and the class prophecy read and the class gifts bestowed by the donor at the class night performance of the graduating class of Charleroi High School Tuesday evening at School Hall. The occasion was one of the two most notable events of commencement week, the second to be commencement night on Thursday evening.

The first comedy given was "Burglars," a very amusing skit that had its humor in a variety of mistakes. Mrs. Green, after an argument with her husband hires a colored man, Toby, to protect the house from burglars. Toby catches a burglar, none other than the woman's husband, and deprives him of his hat and coat before chasing him from the house. In the scene which follows, Kitty, the house-maid mistakes Toby for the master of the house; Mrs. Green mistakes Toby for her husband and Toby loses his job. All the parts were well handled by members of the class. The cast was as follows: Mrs. Greene, Miss Erma Holyfield; Josiah Green, Zenobe Baudoux; Kitty, the house-maid, Miss Marie Whitehead; Toby, the negro, Keith Campbell.

The second presentation was "Our Aunt From California." In this a rich aunt, Mrs. Muntoburn announces a visit with her sister, Mrs. Needy. Mrs. Needy is absent from home and the three daughters, Felicie, Rosalie, and Sally begin preparations. The aunt is to make a choice during her visit of one of her nieces to accompany her on a trip to Europe, the chief qualification to be a keen sense of humor. Felicie and Rosalie elaborately prepare. Sally is so busy preparing for a show in which she is to have a part, that she apparently pays little attention to the approaching visit of the aunt. The aunt, wishing to surprise them, send a telegram stating she will not arrive on the date announced. Sally gets the telegram and appropriates it without showing it to her sisters. As a joke she puts on her character costume for her show and represents her aunt before Felicie and Rosalie. The aunt arrives. She is mistaken for the dressmaker and is startled as the two sisters shower their attentions upon

Sally representing the aunt who receives them with a manner decidedly her own. At the juncture when the real dressmaker appears and things are looking equally for both the aunt and Sally, Mrs. Needy arrives and straightens out affairs. So pleased is the aunt at the joke planned and carried out by Sally, that she chooses her for her companion abroad. The various characters in this production were well done. Miss Elma Collins in her role of Sally Needy did her part exceedingly well, having the heaviest burden in the unraveling of the story.

The cast was as follows: Felicie Needy, Miss Sara Crowthers; Rosalie Needy, Miss Isabella Dorbitz; Miss Sally Needy, Miss Elma Collins; Mrs. Needy, Miss Bethel Bowman; Mrs. Mary Muntoburn, Miss Letitia Morris; Mrs. Wilcozangibis, Miss Kate Gambel.

Miss Marie Whitehead was the class historian. She read the record of the class from the time of its departure from the eighth grade until the present date. Interesting details were embodied in the narrative, including a statement of the age, the average being 17 years, so many months, days, hours, minutes and seconds; a description of the hair of the various members of the class and other interesting personalities. She said five were Presbyterians; two Methodists; one a Christian; one a Lutheran; one a Baptist and one "anything that the circumstances demanded."

The class prophecy was read by Miss Isabella Dorbitz. She foretold wonderful things for the members of the class. Some were to be great musicians, some noted teachers or nurses, one an evangelist, one a wife, one a bride—but all famous.

Miss Sara Crowthers was the class donor. With neat little speeches in verse she bestowed upon the members of the class various gifts that they seemed to be most in need of. With the gifts more or less precious, she gave advice, very precious, as to their use.

The musical part of the program was carried out by the High School orchestra, which played several selections.

PRESBYTERIANS BEAT CATHOLICS IN THE OPENER

Osborne Proves Too Much of an Enigma for Hard Hitting Rickeyites

With results somewhat one-sided the 1912 baseball season was opened by the Charleroi Church Baseball League Tuesday night. On this eventful occasion Fred Peiper's team known as the First Presbyterians gave the Catholics a good hard shove. It was a 6 to 1 affair with Bert Osborne, pitcher, being the shining light. This young man had his ins and outs and drops and upshots and double shoots and other things working so charmingly that the opposing batters gleaned but one safety off his delivery. It meant the Catholics' lone score.

The First Presbyterians won the game in the second inning, scored two runs in the third and finished up their string by two in the fifth. The Catholics' tally came in the third inning.

Allhouse sent one to Chacko in middle field in the second, which the latter neglected to handle properly. Smith followed by securing a base on balls. Collins drove them both in by a double.

In the third with Wilson on, Jenkins hit to Chako, who let the ball get through him. Wilson got out. Oiler singled and so did Allhouse. Jenkins scored. Oiler trotted across

SCHOOL OUTING TO BE FINAL EVENT OF TERM

McLucky the New Burgess

Secures Appointment Few Minutes After Burley Resigns

When Burgess William Burley of California handed in his resignation as Burgess Tuesday, very little time elapsed until Robert McLucky was appointed his successor by Judge Melvaine. Burley without a word to anybody, apparently, handed in his resignation to Dr. Leatherman, president of council. A few moments later however, a copy of the resignation was in the hands of Judge Melvaine, together with a petition for the appointment of McLucky. Some time ago California was the center of a squabble over the matter of Burgess and Sylvester Martin was appointed because it was declared Burley did not live there and could not serve. Burley stuck to his job and the appointment was revoked. It is said there have been two factions fighting for control. McLucky is considered a fortunate choice to bring them together.

BUILDS TREE OF FAMILY

Ancestry of Callaghan Dates Back to Time of Moses

RELATES THE HISTORY

To the Editor of the Charleroi Mail:
Sir—When I referred to the Socialist party in my speech in Charleroi recently, as a party composed largely of foreigners, a man remarked aloud in the audience that I was a foreigner myself.

While I am proud of my foreign ancestry, I was born in this country in the State of Maryland. The traditional history of my family on the male side dates back to "Caddahglass," a leaders of one of the tribes of Israel with Moses in the desert. Being bitten by a serpent, Moses erected a brazen cross and told Caddahglass to look upon it and he would be cured. Moses also told him that his posterity would inhabit an island free from snakes and reptiles.

Caddahglass, which means "The Green Isle," landed with his retinue in Crete, in Spain. After populating that island a branch of the family landed in Ireland, near Belfast, which derived its name from the name of the God of the natives, Bel-a-Bael. At this time the natives of Ireland were pagans. When the O'Neills and the O'Donnells of Spain landed in Ireland, Owen Rue O'Neill, who wanted to be the first to touch the soil in Ireland, cut off his hand and threw it

PUBLIC UTILITIES.

While it is everywhere recognized
that the public utilities which produce no revenue—the ones which are essential to the well-being of the public and have to be maintained by taxation—are sadly neglected, there is no controverting the fact that their
provision adds most materially to the prosperity and advancement of a community. The towns where the comfort and convenience of outside
visitors is provided for reaps a ten-
fold reward.

Among the most essential public utilities for a town, and which are
for the most part conspicuous by
their absence, is hitching places for
horses and rest places for women and children. Every town is more or less important as a trading center
for outside people, yet the most of
them make absolutely no provision
for the accommodation and comfort
of these visitors who for the most
part must secure these conveniences
as best they can. A man who drives to town must in most instances find
a hitching place for his team if he does not care to put up in a livery stable and incur an expense out of
proportion to the cost of the errand
that brings him to town. A woman who wishes to take her children to town
or an outfit finds no place
where she can retire for the purpose of giving the attention which
her children may demand. Consequently no more trips are made to
the towns than are absolutely necessary. The mail order house does the business.

The need of these utilities was most emphatically demonstrated in Charleroi on circus day. Dozens of rigs were hitched along the streets to private shade trees, which in many instances were badly damaged. While the Charleroi Business Men's Association have provided a few hitching

places on some of the vacant lots, the
convenience is not anywhere near adequate, even for a busy Saturday in ordinary times. As a consequence
horses were hitched along the streets
anywhere, and on private property.
Women and children by hundreds sought every available place where
they could sit down and secure a moment's rest. Dozens of women with babes in arms were put to great extremities to give their charges needed attention, and many of them sought
the seclusion of alleys with no other
resting place but the curb stones.

It is these small utilities that count. In the modern system of town planning the public loafing place or
rest hall is an essential feature.
The railroad stations are admirably
equipped in this respect to take care
of their patrons, but the public can-
not use the stations indiscriminately,
although they are utilized largely by outsiders. A town that is well provided with conveniences for the public is one that will attract the most
people, and these utilities are as necessary as paved streets, lights and police protection. Because these utilities are an expense is the reason that they are not provided and the whole community becomes a loser thereby.

PLAY BALL.

The formal opening of the Char-
leroi Church League baseball season Tuesday evening insures a season of
delightful sport for the people to say nothing of the recreation and training in clean, healthy sport it will give
to a large number of our young men.
Baseball is a profession as well as a sport, and the church league gives
an excellent opportunity to train and develop for this career to any who may be possessed of the necessary qualifications. The career is both honorable and lucrative, as professional ball players must possess and
maintain character as well as the
physical requirements.

What is essential now is for each
and every player to play ball according to the rules of the game, as well as to maintain a high standard of social ethics on the field. In this the players should be supported by the
spectators, who should also make
every effort to preserve the proper
spirit of decorum and fairness to those who take part in the game.
Rowdy tactics are no longer tolerated among the players and unless this is eliminated on the part of spectators it will be just as disastrous.
Anything that will interfere with
the game is an infringement upon
the rights of both spectators and
players.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

Most men want other people to think they always have on their other clothes, whether they themselves think so or not.

It's somewhat of a relief to know that the church league has been finally started.

There are a few cases on record, it has been learned by the closest possible scrutiny, where men who part their names in the middle don't do it through vanity.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"Of the making of books there is no end," said Erasmus Wilson, the
"Quiet Observer" of the Pittsburg Gazette Times, to a visitor, at his
sanctum the other day, where he was busy reviewing some new books that
had been sent in.

"I visited Boston recently," continued Mr. Wilson, "and at one of the leading publishing houses there
where I have some personal friends
I asked why they printed so many worthless books.

"Because the people buy them,"
was the reply. "It is surprising how
such books sell, but they do, all right. Our house puts out several thousand new books a year, and then we do not use two per cent of the manuscripts submitted. We have
whole roomfuls of manuscripts
awaiting examinations."

"So long as the public reads this worthless trash," continued Mr. Wilson, "I suppose it will be printed and sold. Any one can get a book published by paying for it, you know,
and dealers will sell it on commission
so that there is really no way of restricting the quantity and quality of the literature faisted upon the public."

"When I see a girl who persists in keeping her hat on in a moving picture show, I always wonder if she
realizes that she is jeopardizing her
chances for making a good marriage," remarked a young fellow in town the other day. "I attend the picture shows quite frequently, and in almost every audience you'll see some girls
who keep their hats on regardless of
the annoyance or discomfort of others.
Such girls exhibit a trait that is most
undesirable to the ordinary man—
that of selfishness.

"To my way of thinging the girl
who cares nothing for the inconvenience of others, will exhibit the same
traits in her own household, if she is unfortunate enough to ever get one.
She'll want the big end of the income
for herself, and if the things she wants for her own gratification are
not forthcoming, then look out for domestic infelicity.

"I always steer clear of the girl
who keeps her hat on in the theatres,
and I would advise every other young fellow to do the same. This trait is an index of character that will wreck
almost any home."

AFTER NEASLES

Parents too often make the mistake of thinking that certain diseases
of childhood, such as measles and
whooping cough are harmless.

Measles is very likely to weaken
the kidneys and leave serious effects
unless the system is built up with a reliable strength creator such as Vi-
nol, our delicious cod liver and iron
preparation without oil.

Miss Marion Shaver, a young girl
of Luzerne, N. Y., says: "I had measles several months ago, and it
left me in very bad condition, weak
and rundown. After several months
of this, I took Vinol to build me up.
It has done me much good. I have gained both strength and weight and
my appetite is good."

In all weakened and rundown conditions of the body, from any cause, Vinol should be used to create new blood and increase strength. We guarantee it to do this and will pay back your money if it does not. Pi-

Burden of Hours.

The hours drift by as the dawn or the
scent of the rain.
They come as the wind—for a little they
are and are gone;
And the Seeker may pause in his Search,
to his pleasure or pain,
But the hours go on.

The hours bear joy in their arms which
is like unto fire,
White fire which is light to the Seeker
and warmth to his heart;
And it catches at this at it goes, with a Seeker's desire,
But he misses a part.

The hours fare into the dark, and the Seeker, in turn,
The load in the arms of the hours de-
parts and is dumb—
Yet who knows but it waits otherwise,
as a hearth fire to burn
When the Seeker shall come.

Agricultural Education.

The young farmer who cuts out agricultural education from his life program will see his mistake by and by.
Who ever met a graduate of a good farm college who wishes he had kept at work instead of taking a course of special study and training?

Common Things.

Give me, dear Lord, Thy magic common
things,
Which all can see, which all may share
Sunlight and dewdrops, grass and stars and sea.
Nothing unique, or new, and nothing
rare,
Just daisies, knayweed, wind among the
thorns;
Some clouds to cross the blue old sky
above;
Rain, winter fires, a useful hand, a heart.
The common glory of a woman's love,
Then when my feet no longer tread old
paths
(Keep them from fouling sweet things anywhere),
Write one thing epitaph in grace literary,
"Such things led love fairer than he so-journd here."

THE PRIMER OF SUCCESS

Do you want a position?
Do you want a girl?
Do you want to rent your furnished room?
Do you want to sell your house?
Do you want to sell your eggs, poultry or
live stock?
Have you lost anything?
Have you anything to trade?
Do you want to sell your piano?

There are many who want to do one or the other of these things. Most of them don't know how to go about it. If they could only tell the people what they want they would be all right.
If they could only let the people know without
disclosing their identity that might be better still.

If you want to buy, sell or secure any of the above, or if you want to trade anything, did it ever occur to you that the best thing in the world to do is to use the Classified Columns of the Mail.

Why do we give you this advice? To make business for ourselves? Certainly! To help you?
Just as certainly! We are the medium between you and what you want. You just place a cent-a-word advertisement with us and we spread
this advertisement before Five Thousand People Every Day. That is the market with which we bring you into touch. Isn't the advantage of being placed in touch with 5,000 people worth
this insignificant sum?

Try it, and you will reap the benefit
of your advertisement a thousand fold

Our Small Farms in the fertile Sacramento Valley

HAVE

an immediate market for everything they can raise. Creameries will furnish you cows if you sell them your cream. Commission men will contract for your fruit and vegetables before harvested.

The supply will never equal the demand — for instance:

IN THIS CIRCLE

there are 1,000,000 mouths to feed before any fruit, vegetables or dairy products can be sent to other States or Districts.

For a half century the fertile Sacramento Valley was virtually a district of big farms and big ranches in the control of a few men.

As an example of their bigness: Hugh Glenn in one summer harvested nearly one million bushels of wheat from his farm, which is now a part of our project.

While they lived, the original owners of these farms would never entertain an offer to sell a small piece of their domain, but with the passing of these pioneers, conditions changed, and the Sacramento Valley Irrigation Company was able to purchase some of the best big ranches and they are installing one of the largest and most complete irrigation systems known: are subdividing this great property into small farms of from 20 to 80 acres, and are offering them on special low terms.

$15 DOWN THAT'S ALL

By making this small down payment, any man who is willing to work will win, every month in the year he can produce from this fertile soil some article of food that can be converted into immediate cash.

$11 A YEAR THAT'S EASY

The market is waiting for your products. Your success depends upon your own efforts—with no limit to your possibilities.

A Sacramento valley farmer is king of his own little kingdom. Work is a pleasure out in the open air among his trees, and vines and vegetables. There is a charm to the life, the little pigs grow into profitable pork; the poultry and the cows produce a constant stream of revenue, and the price of possession makes him realize that in acreage—

Spider Web Prophecy.

Some spiders are weather prophets. Perhaps some of you have noticed in the fields in a summer morning the grass covered with little cobwebs. Under each web there is a spider that comes out of a hole in the ground, and all the spiders are alike. When these webs are on the grass it is quite sure not to rain.

Cheap Made of Living.

With no rent to pay, no street car fares or other of the usual unavoidable city expenses to meet, the barge and canal boat men of the Netherlands live possibly the most frugal lives of any of the urban working classes in Europe. They, with their families, exist in the hulls of their craft. The rooms are small, with little ventilation, and necessarily low to enable the boats to pass under the bridges. The decks form the children's playground. Chickens are sometimes kept on the boat and consume the earwage.

For Women Who Care.

Of course you use an antiseptic in your family and in the care of your own person, and you want the best.

Instead of what you have been using such as liquid or tablet antiseptics or peroxide, won't you please try Paxtine, a concentrated antiseptic powder to be dissolved in water as needed.

Paxtine is more economical, more cleansing, more germicidal and more healing than anything you ever used.

Paxtine

ANTISEPTIC

In the toilet—to cleanse and whiten the teeth, remove tartar and prevent decay. To disinfect the mouth, destroy disease germs, and purify the breath. To keep artificial teeth and bridgework clean and odorless. To remove nicotine from the teeth and purify the breath after smoking. To eradicate perspiration odors by sponge bathing.

As a medicinal agent for local treatment of feminine ills where pelvic catarrh, inflammation and ulceration exist, nothing equals hot douches of Paxtine. For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co. has been regularly advising their patients to use it because of its extraordinary cleansing, healing and germicidal power. For this purpose alone Paxtine is worth its weight in gold. Also for nasal catarrh, sore throat, inflamed eyes, cuts and wounds. All druggists, 25 and 50 cents a box. Trial box and testimony of 31 women free on request.

Prisoners Honored Confidence.

When the circus exhibited in Montpelier, Vt., recently, there was no work for eleven prisoners in the jail. The sheriff purchased tickets for them and allowed them to see the show without an escort. Some had long terms to serve and the crowd and darkness furnished an excellent opportunity to escape. Fifteen minutes after the performance was over every one was back where he belonged.

Seek Prison as Refuge.

In Japan there are people who make sham confessions in order to obtain a period of the comparative warmth and comfort of a Japanese prison. The Japan Mail says: "The police slang of the capital has words to describe and distinguish these persons. 'Meshi-kul,' or the rice criminal, will steal some small article from a shop front in such a way as to be seen doing it. He then makes a bolt of it, pursued by the master of the shop or some faithful kozo, but presently allows himself to be caught and handed to the police. He has to 'do time' for his pretended theft, but his rice is secured for a period, and when that period has elapsed he will allow himself to be caught again."

Worked Two Ways.

He had sung several times during the evening, and his friends had murmured words of praise, then escaped as quickly as possible.

But as he was going homeward he managed to catch one of these self-same friends, and he insisted on a truthful opinion.

"You see," he explained, "I don't quite know how to take Miss Cateon's comment on my performances tonight."

"No—really! Why—what did she say?" asked the friend hopefully.

Help for the Machinist.

The machinist who uses shaper and milling machines knows the difficulty when making small parts of squaring thin pieces on account of the trouble encountered in setting the piece squarely while tightening the vise. To escape these trials, take a piece of thin steel of proper length and breadth, harden, and magnetize. Place this against the fixed jaw of the vise and it will adhere firmly. When the work is brought in contact with it, the small piece will also adhere and the vise can be clamped to the best advantage. The face of the magnetized strip should be kept free of chips and should be recharged frequently.

ashore. When he landed he found that one of the Caddahglasses, a Gallowgasser, as they were known in song and story, had the hand of Owen Rue O'Neill in his possession. It was then that O'Neill conferred, on him the title of O'Callaghan, which means "Fair Vale with the bloody hand."

In after years many factious fights the O'Callaghans had with the O'ivers, the Kinleys and the Teners. When the Cromwellian edict was passed that a Catholic had to go to hell or Connaught, and my great-grandfather did not want to go to either place, he emigrated to Prince Edward's Island. From there the family drifted all over the world. My father's name was Felix O'Callaghan, and my mother's name was Alice Cairns. If you care to go to the Carnegie Library and hunt up Burke's Peerage, you will find both names there. The name of O'Callaghan's heraldic sign is "The Arm and Hammer."

While I was born in Maryland, the most of my life has been spent in Westmoreland and Washington counties, this State. I was a member of the legislature when I had my fight with T. V. Powderly, head of the Knights of Labor. I left Westmoreland and came to Washington county. My first political battle here was with Geo. V. Lawrence and if I had not been knifed in the house of my friends, I would have defeated Lawrence who won by only 400 votes.

I was married in 1888 to Ellen M. Hogue, in Loretto, Pa., by Rev. Father O'Shey. Her home, which is still occupied by her family, is on the road leading from Cresson to Loretto. It was a favorite stopping place for Andrew Carnegie and his mother when she lived in her little cottage at Cresson. My wife's mother and Andrew Carnegie's mother were cousins, as was also the well known blacksmith, Joseph Buck of Homestead, whose mother's name was Young, of Scotch ancestry. They settled at Scotts town, Westmoreland county, at a very early date. The love and devotion that Andrew Carnegie had for his aged mother is one of the most striking and beautiful attributes in that singular man's life.

The Hogue family and Schwab family are so intermixed with marriages that they remind me of the Carsons and Coopers of Fallowfield township. I have two daughters, Mary and Esther, born in Charleroi. I have two sons buried at Coal Centre in the Catholic cemetery. So far as my family history is concerned it is part and parcel of the great historic events in the world's history.

St. Patrick doesn't want to have the credit of driving the snakes out of Ireland, but he does want to have the credit of performing the great miracle of converting the Irish race to

Callaghan Arranges With Illionis Friend to Do Act

BRENNAN THE SECONDER

Bryan to Do Stampeding-- Speech at Monongahela Attracts Big Crowd

Fresh from a brief campaigning trip, in which he made public street addresses at Washington Monday night and at Monongahela Tuesday night, Hon. Edward Callaghan, Democratic candidate for President of the United States, this morning announced the name of the speaker who will nominate him at the Baltimore national convention. This is Hon. B. F. Staymates of Clinton, Illinois, a member of the Legislature of that State. Mr. Staymates' nominating speech will be seconded, Mr. Callaghan says, by William Brennan, Esq., of Pittsburgh, after which William J. Bryan is to respond with another seconding speech, which is expected to complete the stampede that will give Mr. Callaghan the nomination.

Mr. Staymates, who is a veteran Democratic politician of national reputation, made the acquaintance of Mr. Callaghan in 1886, when the latter was prominent in the Pennsylvania Legislature of which he was then a member. In one of the State campaign. Mr. Staymates was a stump speaker sent to Pennsylvania by the Democratic national committee and hearing of Mr. Callaghan's career in the Legislature asked to be assigned to Westmoreland and western counties of the State. This was done, and becoming acquainted with Mr. Callaghan, the two have been fast friends ever since.

This morning Mr. Callaghan received a letter from Mr. Staymates with whom he has been corresponding relative to the campaign, and in the letter was enclosed some clippings from the Pittsburgh papers of interviews with Mr. Callaghan regarding some of the subjects and issues which were then paramount. So prophetic were some of Mr. Callaghan's utterances on certain issues which were then looming up on the distant horizon, that history, he says, is simply repeating itself.

"I met with a great ovation in Monongahela last night," said Mr. Callaghan, in referring to his speech there. "When I stepped off the car the street was lined with people. I couldn't find a soap box handy for a platform, so the Socialists kindly provided me with this street platform, from which I made my speech. I was well received and given all kinds of encouragement."

"I was assured yesterday by one of the Pennsylvania delegates to the National convention that after Wilson is out of the way the whole Pennsylvania delegation will swing over to me in the convention."

Mr. Callaghan states that he will be occupied with his personal affairs for a few days, after which he expects to devote his entire time to the campaign.

Shortly before 9 o'clock Tuesday night the jury in the homicide case which had been on trial in the criminal court at Washington brought in a verdict acquitting Frank Spatafore of the murder of Tony Lombardo at Ellsworth in January. The case was given to the jury shortly before 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Lombardo was killed in a fight in a boarding house at Ellsworth. Spatafore was charged with having fired the shot which caused Lombardo's death. His defense was that he did not fire the shot although he admitted he was present when the trouble occurred.

LAD LOSES IN BATTLE FOR LIFE

Plucky Eight-Year-Old, With Leg Off, Unable to Ward off Death

After battling for his life two days Charles Albert a plucky 8-year old lad, and the son of Charles Albert of Fayette City, died last night at the Memorial Hospital, Monongahela. The boy had had his right leg taken off near the hip by a train at Fayette City.

The accident happened on Monday afternoon. The lad it is stated was playing about near his home. It is supposed he jumped on a freight car which, moving suddenly knocked him in under.

His leg severed the boy managed to draw himself to a log, where he was found sitting a few minutes later, holding the short stump of a limb. He talked readily. The injured member was dressed as well as possible and the lad hastened off to the hospital. He battled desperately for life but the shock proved too great.

CLASS PERFORMANCES GIVEN BY GRADUATES

Class Night Observed by High School Seniors-- Two Playlets Feature Program--History and Prophecy Read

Two comedy playlets were given the last history and the class prophecy read and the class gifts bestowed by the donor at the class night performance of the graduating class of Charleroi High School Tuesday evening at School Hall. The occasion was one of the two most notable events of commencement week, the second to be commencement night on Thursday evening.

The first comedy given was "Burglars," a very amusing skit that had its humor in a variety of mistakes. Mrs. Green, after an argument with her husband hires a colored man, Toby, to protect the house from burglars. Toby catches a burglar, none other than the woman's husband, and deprives him of his hat and coat before chasing him from the house. In the scene which follows, Kitty, the housemaid mistakes Toby for the master of the house; Mrs. Green mistakes Toby for her husband and Toby loses his job. All the parts were well handled by members of the class. The cast was as follows: Mrs. Greene, Miss Erma Holyfield; Josiah Green, Zenobe Baudoux; Kitty, the housemaid, Miss Marie Whitehead; Toby, the negro, Keith Campbell.

The second presentation was "Our Aunt From California." In this a rich aunt, Mrs. Muntoburn announces a visit with her sister, Mrs. Needy. Mrs. Needy is absent from home and the three daughters, Felicie, Rosalie, and Sally begin preparations. The aunt is to make a choice during her visit of one of her nieces to accompany her on a trip to Europe, the chief qualification to be a keen sense of humor. Felicie and Rosalie elaborately prepare. Sally is so busy preparing for a show in which she is to have a part, that she apparently pays little attention to the approaching visit of the aunt. The aunt, wishing to surprise them, sends a telegram stating she will arrive on the date announced. Sally gets the telegram and appropriates it without showing it to her sisters. As a joke she puts on her character costume for her show and represents her aunt before Felicie and Rosalie. The aunt arrives. She is mistaken for the dressmaker and is startled as the two sisters shower their attentions upon

Sally representing the aunt who receives them with a manner decidedly her own. At the juncture when the real dressmaker appears and things are looking equally for both the aunt and Sally, Mrs. Needy arrives and straightens out affairs. So pleased is the aunt at the joke planned and carried out by Sally, that she chooses her for her companion on the trip. Various characters in this production were well done. Miss Emma Collins in her role of Sally Needy did her part exceedingly well, having the heaviest burden in the unraveling of the story.

The cast was as follows: Felicie Needy, Miss Sara Crowthers; Rosalie Needy, Miss Isabella Dorbitz; Miss Sally Needy, Miss Emma Collins; Mrs. Needy, Miss Bethel Bowman; Mrs. Mary Muntoburn, Miss Letitia Morris; Mrs. Wilcozings, Miss Kate Gambel.

Miss Marie Whitehead was the class historian. She read the record of the class from the time of its departure from the eighth grade until the present date. Interesting details were embodied in the narrative, including a statement of the ages, the average being 17 years, so many months, days, hours, minutes and seconds; a description of the hair of the various members of the class and other interesting personalities. She said five were Presbyterians; two Methodists; one a Christian; one a Lutheran; one a Baptist and one "anything that the circumstances demanded."

The class prophecy was read by Miss Isabella Dorbitz. She foretold wonderful things for the members of the class. Some were to be great musicians, some noted teachers or nurses, one an evangelist, one a wife, one a bride—but all famous.

Miss Sara Crowthers was the class donor. With neat little speeches in verse she bestowed upon the members of the class various gifts that they seemed to be most in need of. With the gifts more or less precious, she gave advice, very precious, as to their use.

The musical part of the program was carried out by the High School orchestra, which played several selections.

PRESBYTERIANS BEAT CATHOLICS IN THE OPENER

Osborne Proves Too Much of an Enigma for Hard Hitting Rickeyites

With results somewhat one-sided the 1912 baseball season was opened by the Charleroi Church Baseball League Tuesday night. On this eventful occasion Fred Peiper's team known as the First Presbyterians gave the Catholics a good hard shove. It was a 6 to 1 affair with Bert Osborne, pitcher, being the shining light. This young man had his ins and outs and drops and upshots and double shots and other things working so charminly that the opposing batters gleaned but one safety off his delivery. It meant the Catholics' lone score.

The First Presbyterians won the game in the second inning, scored two runs in the third and finished up their string by two in the fifth. The Catholics' tally came in the third inning.

Allhouse sent one to Chacko in middle field in the second, which the latter neglected to handle properly. Smith followed by securing a base on balls. Collins drove them both in by a double.

In the third with Wilson on, Jenkins hit to Chako, who let the ball get through. Wilson got out. Oller singled and so did Allhouse. Jenkins scored. Oller trotted across

Secures Appointment Few Minutes After Burley Resigns

When Burgess William Burley of California handed in his resignation as Burgess Tuesday, very little time elapsed until Robert McLuckey was appointed his successor by Judge McIlvaine. Burley without a word to anybody, apparently, handed in his resignation to Dr. Leatherman, president of council. A few moments later however, a copy of the resignation was in the hands of Judge McIlvaine, together with a petition for the appointment of McLuckey. Some time ago California was the center of a squabble over the matter of Burgess and Sylvester Martin was appointed because it was declared Burley did not live there and could not serve. Burley stuck to his job and the appointment was revoked. It is said there have been two factions fighting for control. McLuckey is considered a fortunate choice to bring them together.

Ancestry of Callaghan Dates Back to Time of Moses

To the Editor of the Charleroi Mail:

Sir—When I referred to the Socialist party in my speech in Charleroi recently, as a party composed largely of foreigners, a man remarked aloud in the audience that I was a foreigner myself.

While I am proud of my foreign ancestry, I was born in this country in the State of Maryland. The traditional history of my family on the male side dates back to "Caddahglass," a leaders of one of the tribes of Israel with Moses in the desert. Being bitten by a serpent, Moses erected a brazen cross and told Caddahglass to look upon it and he would be cured. Moses also told him that his posterity would inhabit an island free from snakes and reptiles.

Caddahglass, which means "The Green Isle," landed with his retinue in Crete, in Spain. After populating that island a branch of the family landed in Ireland, near Belfast, which derived its name from the name of the God of the natives, Bel-a-Bael. At this time the natives of Ireland were pagans. When the O'Neills and the O'Donnells of Spain landed in Ireland, Owen Rue O'Neill, who wanted to be the first to touch the soil in Ireland, cut off his hand and threw it

Callaghan Arranges With Illionis Friend to Do Act

BRENNAN THE SECONDER

Bryan to Do Stamping-- Speech at Monongahela Attracts Big Crowd

Fresh from a brief campaigning trip, in which he made public street addresses at Washington Monday night and at Monongahela Tuesday night, Hon Edward Callaghan, Democratic candidate for President of the United States, this morning announced the name of the speaker who will nominate him at the Baltimore national convention. This is Hon B. F. Staymates of Clinton, Illinois, a member of the Legislature of that State. Mr. Staymates' nominating speech will be seconded, Mr. Callaghan says, by William Brennan, Esq., of Pittsburgh, after which William J. Bryan is to respond with another seconding speech, which is expected to complete the stampede that will give Mr. Callaghan the nomination.

Mr. Staymates, who is a veteran Democratic politician of national reputation, made the acquaintance of Mr. Callaghan in 1886, when the latter was prominent in the Pennsylvania Legislature of which he was then a member. In one of the State campaign. Mr. Staymates was a stump speaker sent to Pennsylvania by the Democratic national committee and hearing of Mr. Callaghan's career in the Legislature asked to be assigned to Westmoreland and western counties of the State. This was done, and becoming acquainted with Mr. Callaghan, the two have been fast friends ever since.

This morning Mr. Callaghan received a letter from Mr. Staymates with whom he has been corresponding relative to the campaign, and in the letter was enclosed some clippings from the Pittsburgh papers of interviews with Mr. Callaghan regarding some of the subjects and issues which were then paramount. So prophetic were some of Mr. Callaghan's utterances on certain issues which were then looming up on the distant horizon, that history, he says, is simply repeating itself.

"I met with a great ovation in Monongahela last night," said Mr. Callaghan, in referring to his speech there. "When I stepped off the car the street was lined with people. I couldn't find a soap box handy for a platform, so the Socialists kindly provided me with this street platform, from which I made my speech. I was well received and given all kinds of encouragement."

"I was assured yesterday by one of the Pennsylvania delegates to the National convention that after Wilson is out of the way the whole Pennsylvania delegation will swing over to me in the convention."

Mr. Callaghan states that he will be occupied with his personal affairs for a few days, after which he expects to devote his entire time to the campaign.

Ellsworth Man Released From Murder Charge Following Trial

Shortly before 9 o'clock Tuesday night the jury in the homicide case which had been on trial in the criminal court at Washington brought in a verdict acquitting Frank Spatafore of the murder of Tony Lombardo at Ellsworth in January. The case was given to the jury shortly before 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Lombardo was killed in a fight in a boarding house at Ellsworth. Spatafore was charged with having fired the shot which caused Lombardo's death. His defense was that he did not fire the shot although he admitted he was present when the trouble occurred.

Plucky Eight-Year-Old, With Leg Off, Unable to Ward off Death

After battling for his life two days Charles Albert a plucky 8-year old lad, and the son of Charles Albert of Fayette City, died last night at the Memorial Hospital, Monongahela. The boy had had his right leg taken off near the hip by a train at Fayette City.

The accident happened on Monday afternoon. The lad is stated was playing about near his home. It is supposed he jumped on a freight car which, moving suddenly knocked him in under.

His leg severed the boy managed to draw himself to a log, where he was found sitting a few minutes later, holding the short stump of a limb. He talked readily. The injured member was dressed as well as possible and the lad hastened off to the hospital. He battled desperately for life but the shock proved too great.

CLASS PERFORMANCES GIVEN BY GRADUATES

Class Night Observed by High School Seniors-- Two Playlets Feature Program--History and Prophecy Read

Two comedy playlets were given this last history and the class prophecy read and the class gifts bestowed by the donor at the class night performance of the graduating class of Charleroi High School Tuesday evening at School Hall. The occasion was one of the two most notable events of commencement week, the second to be commencement week's Thursday evening.

The first comedy given was "Burglars," a very amusing skit that had its humor in a variety of mistakes. Mrs. Green, after an argument with her husband hires a colored man, Toby, to protect the house from burglars. Toby catches a burglar, not other than the woman's husband, and deprives him of his hat and coat before chasing him from the house. In the scene which follows, Kitty, the house-maid mistakes Toby for the master of the house; Mrs. Green mistakes Toby for her husband and Toby loses his job. All the parts were well handled by members of the class. The cast was as follows: Mrs. Greene, Miss Erma Holyfield; Josiah Green, Zenobe Baudoux; Kitty, the house-maid, Miss Marie Whithead; Toby, the negro, Keith Campbell.

The second presentation was "Our Aunt From California." In this a rich aunt, Mrs. Munoburn announces a visit with her sister, Mrs. Needy. Mrs. Needy is absent from home and the three daughters, Felicie, Rosalie, and Sally begin preparations. The aunt is to make a choice during her visit of one of her neices to accompany her on a trip to Europe. The chief qualification to be a keen sense of humor. Felicie and Rosalie eagerly prepare. Sally is so busy preparing for a show in which she is to have a part, that she apparently pays little attention to the approaching visit of the aunt. The aunt wishing to surprise them, send a telegram stating she will not arrive on the date announced. Sally gets the telegram and appropriates it without showing it to her sisters. As a joke she puts on her character costume for her show and represents her aunt before Felicie and Rosalie. The aunt arrives. Mrs. Needy arrives and straightens out affairs. So pleased is the aunt at the joke planned and carried out by Sally, that she chooses her for her companion.

The cast was as follows: Felicie Needy, Miss Sara Crowthers; Rosalie Needy, Miss Isabella Doritz; Miss Sally Needy, Miss Erma Collins; Mrs. Needy, Miss Betnel Bowman; Mrs. Mary Munoburn, Miss Laura Morris; Mrs. Wilcozings, Miss Kate Gambel.

Miss Marie Whithead was the class historian. She read the record of the class from the time of its departure from the eighth grade until the present date. BUILDS TREE OF FAMILY

Ancestry of Callaghan Dates Back to Time of Moses

PUBLIC UTILITIES.

While it is everywhere recognized
that the public utilities which produce no revenue—the ones which are
essential to the well-being of the public and have to be maintained by taxation—are sadly neglected, there is
no controverting the fact that their
provision adds most materially to
the prosperity and advancement of a community. The towns where the
comfort and convenience of outside
visitors is provided for reaps a ten-
fold reward

Among the most essential public
utilities for a town, and which are
for the most part conspicuous by
their absence, is hitching places for
horses and rest places for women
and children. Every town is more or
less important as a trading center
for outside people, yet the most of
them make absolutely no provision
for the accommodation and comfort
of these visitors who for the most
part must secure these conveniences
as best they can. A man who drives
to town must in most instances find
a hitching place for his team if he
does not care to put up in a livery
stable and incur an expense out of
proportion to the cost of the errand
that brings him to town. A woman who
wishes to take her children to town
or an outfit finds no place
where she can retire for the
purpose of giving the attention which
her children may demand. Consequently no more trips are made to
the towns than are absolutely necessary. The mail order house does the business.

The need of these utilities was most
emphatically demonstrated in Charleroi on census day. Dozens of rigs
were hitched along the streets to
private shade trees, which in many instances were badly damaged. While
the Charleroi Business Men's Association have provided a few hitching

places on some of the vacant lots, the
convenience is not anywhere near adequate, even for a busy Saturday in
ordinary times. As a consequence
horses were hitched along the streets
anywhere, and on private property.
Women and children by hundreds
sought every available place where
they could sit down and secure a moment's rest. Dozens of women with babes in arms were put to great ex-
tremities to give their charges needed attention, and many of them sought
the seclusion of alleys with no other
resting place but the curb stones.

It is these small utilities that
count. In the modern system of town
planning the public loafing place or
rest hall is an essential feature.
The railroad stations are admirably
equipped in this respect to take care
of their patrons, but the public can-
not use the stations indiscriminately,
although they are utilized largely by
outsiders. A town that is well provided with conveniences for the public is one that will attract the most
people, and these utilities are as necessary as paved streets, lights and police protection. Because these utilities are an expense is the reason that they are not provided and the whole community becomes a loser thereby.

PLAY BALL.

The formal opening of the Char-
leroi Church League baseball season
Tuesday evening insures a season of
delightful sport for the people to say
nothing of the recreation and training in clean, healthy sport it will give
to a large number of our young men.
Baseball is a profession as well as a
sport, and the church league gives
an excellent opportunity to train and
develop for this career to any who
may be possessed of the necessary
qualifications. The career is both
honorable and lucrative, as professional ball players must possess and
maintain character as well as the
physical requirements.

What is essential now is for each
and every player to play ball according to the rules of the game, as well
as to maintain a high standard of
social ethics on the field. In this the
players should be supported by the
spectators, who should also make
every effort to preserve the proper
spirit of decorum and fairness to
those who take part in the game.
Rowdy tactics are no longer tolerated among the players and unless this
is eliminated on the part of spectators it will be just as disastrous.
Anything that will interfere with
the game is an infringement upon
the rights of both spectators and
players.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"Of the making of books there is
no end," said Erasmus Wilson, the
"Quiet Observer" of the Pittsburg
Gazette Times, to a visitor, at his
sanctum the other day, where he was
busy reviewing some new books that
had been sent in.

"I visited Boston recently," continued Mr. Wilson, "and at one of the leading publishing houses there
where I have some personal friends
I asked why they printed so many
worthless books.

"Because the people buy them,"
was the reply. "It is surprising how
such books sell, but they do, all
right. Our house puts out several thousand new books a year, and then
we do not use two per cent of the manuscripts submitted. We have
whole roomfuls of manuscripts
awaiting examinations."

"So long as the public reads this
worthless trash," continued Mr. Wilson, "I suppose it will be printed and
sold. Any one can get a book published by paying for it, you know,
and dealers will sell it on commission
so that there is really no way of restricting the quantity and quality of the literature fastened upon the public."

"When I see a girl who persists in
keeping her hat on in a moving picture show, I always wonder if she
realizes that she is jeopardizing her
chances for making a good marriage,"
remarked a young fellow in town the
other day. "I attend the picture
shows quite frequently, and in almost
every audience you'll see some girls
who keep their hats on regardless of
the annoyance or discomfort of others.
Such girls exhibit a trait that is most
undesirable to the ordinary man—
that of selfishness.

"To my way of thinging the girl
who cares nothing for the inconvenience of others, will exhibit the same
traits in her own household. If she is unfortunate enough to ever get one She'll want the big end of the income
for herself, and if the things she
wants for her own gratification are
not forthcoming, then look out for
domestic infelicity.

"I always steer clear of the girl
who keeps her hat on in the theatre,
and I would advise every other young fellow to do the same. This trait is
an index of character that will wreck
almost any home."

AFTER MEASLES

Parents too often make the mis-
take of thinking that certain diseases
of childhood, such as measles and
whooping cough are harmless.
Measles is very likely to weaken
the kidneys and leave serious effects
unless the system is built up with a
reliable strength creator such as Vi-
nol, our delicious cod liver and iron
preparation without oil.

Miss Marion Shaver, a young girl
of Luzerne, N. Y., says: "I had
measles several months ago, and it
left me in very bad condition, weak
and rundown. After several months
of this, I took Vinol to build me up.
It has done me much good. I have
gained both strength and weight and
my appetite is good."

In all weakened and rundown conditions of the body, from any cause, Vinol should be used to create new
blood and increase strength. We
guarantee it to do this and will pay
back your money if it does not. Pi-

Burden of Hours.

The hours drift by as the dawn or the
scent of the rain.
They come as the wind—for a little they
are and are gone;
And the Seeker may pause in his Search,
to his pleasure or pain,
But the hours go on

The hours bear joy in their arms which
is like unto fire.
White fire which is light to the Seeker
and warmth to his heart.
And it catches at this as it goes, with a Seeker's desire,
But he misses a part.

The hours fare into the dark, and the
Seeker, in turn,
The load in the arms of the hours de-
parts and is dumb—
Yet who knows but it waits otherwise,
as a hearth fire to burn
When the Seeker shall come.

Roman Coins Found in England.

The process of cleaning the coins found a few weeks ago in a Roman vase in a field upon a farm at Edwinstowe, Nottinghamshire, England, shows that they comprise 365 denarii, dating from 69 to 192 A. D. Although these coins must have been buried for 17 centuries, they are in a perfect state of preservation.

Common Things.

Give me, dear Lord, Thy magic common
things,
Which all can see, which all may share
Sunlight and dewdrops, grass and stars

Nothing unique or new, and nothing

Just daisies, knayweed wind among the
thorns;
Some clouds to cross the blue old sky
above;
Rain, winter fires a useful hand a
heart.
The common glory of a woman's love.
Then when my feet no longer tread old
paths
(Keep them from fouling sweet thing
anywhere),
Write one lod epitaph in grace lit
words,
"Such things look fairer that he so journed here."

Publicity!

THE PRIMER OF SUCCESS

Do you want a position?
Do you want a girl?
Do you want to rent your furnished room?
Do you want to sell your house?
Do you want to sell your eggs, poultry or
live stock?
Have you lost anything?
Have you anything to trade?
Do you want to sell your piano?

There are many who want to do one or the
other of these things. Most of them don't know how to go about it. If they could only tell the people what they want they would be all right.
If they could only let the people know without
disclosing their identity that might be better still.

If you want to buy, sell or secure any of the
above, or if you want to trade anything, did it ever occur to you that the best thing in the world
to do is to use the Classified Columns of the Mail.

Why do we give you this advice? To make
business for ourselves? Certainly! To help you?
Just as certainly! We are the medium between
you and what you want. You just place a cent-a-word advertisement with us and we spread
this advertisement before Five Thousand People Every Day. That is the market with which we
bring you into touch. Isn't the advantage of
being placed in touch with 5,000 people worth
this insignificant sum?

Try it, and you will reap the benefit
of your advertisement a thousand fold

The supply will never equal the demand — for instance:

SACRAMENTO VALLEY

SACRAMENTO

SAN FRANCISCO THE EXPOSITION CITY 1915

For a half century the fertile Sacramento Valley was virtually a district of big farms and big ranches in the control of a few men.

As an example of their bigness: Hugh Glenn in one summer harvested nearly one million bushels of wheat from his farm, which is now a part of our project. While they lived, the original owners of these farms would never entertain an offer to sell a small piece of their domain; but with the passing of these pioneers, conditions changed, and the Sacramento Valley Irrigation Company was able to purchase some of the best big ranches and they are installing one of the largest and most complete irrigation systems known; are sub-dividing this great property into small farms of from 20 to 80 acres, and are offering them on special low terms.

$15 DOWN THAT'S ALL $11 A YEAR THAT'S EASY

By making this small down payment, any man who is willing to work will win: every month in the year he can produce from this fertile soil some article of food that can be converted into immediate cash.

The market is waiting for your products. Your success depends upon your own efforts—with no limit to your possibilities.

A Sacramento valley farmer is king of his own little kingdom. Work is a pleasure out in the open air among his trees, and vines and vegetables. There is a charm to the life: the little pigs grow into profitable pork; the poultry and the cows produce a constant stream of revenue, and the price of possession makes him realize that in acreage—

"Twenty's Plenty — Forty's a Fortune"

Mr. W. A. Yerxa, a wholesale grocer, retired from his business in Minneapolis and came to California for his health. He purchased a farm from us and began to grow things—in one year (after it matured) he made as much from his prune orchard as he ever did from his business, and he has entirely regained his health.

The telephone, transportation by river and rail, the good roads and the automobiles all bring you and your neighbors in close association with each other, and make life on one of the small farms of the

a life of pleasure, profit and plenty.

Prisoners Honored Confidence.

When the circus exhibited in Montpelier, Vt., recently, there was no work for eleven prisoners in the jail. The sheriff purchased tickets for them and allowed them to see the show without an escort. Some had long terms to serve and the crowd and darkness furnished an excellent opportunity to escape. Fifteen minutes after the performance was over every one was back where he belonged.

Seek Prison as Refuge.

In Japan there are people who make sham confessions in order to obtain a period of the comparative warmth and comfort of a Japanese prison. The Japan Mail says: "The police slang of the capital has words to describe and distinguish these persons. 'Meshi-kui,' or the rice criminal, will steal some small article from a shop front in such a way as to be seen doing it. He then makes a bolt of it, pursued by the master of the shop or some faithful kozo, but presently allows himself to be caught and handed to the police. He has to 'do time' for his pretended theft, but his rice is secured for a period, and when that period has elapsed he will allow himself to be caught again."

Worked Two Ways.

He had sung several times during the evening, and his friends had murmured words of praise, then escaped as quickly as possible. But as he was going homeward he managed to catch one of these self-same friends, and he insisted on a truthful opinion.

"You see," he explained, "I don't quite know how to take Miss Cateon's comment on my performances to-night."

"No—really! Why—what did she say?" asked the friend hopefully.

Perforated Stamps.

Perforated sheets of postage stamps were unknown six decades ago. Until the year 1854 postage stamps were issued in sheets which the purchaser had to cut up in any way he found convenient. The perforating machine was invented by an Irishman named Archer. When it was submitted to the British government the treasury offered him $3,000 for his patent rights. As Archer had spent over four years in perfecting his machine, this offer was indignantly rejected. Eventually Archer was awarded $20,000.

Spider Web Prophecy.
Some spiders are weather prophets. Perhaps some of you have noticed in the fields in a summer morning the grass covered with little cobwebs. Under each web there is a spider that comes out of a hole in the ground, and all the spiders are alike. When these webs are on the grass it is quite sure not to rain.

Cheap Mode of Living.
With no rent to pay, no street car fares or other of the usual unavoidable city expenses to meet, the barge and canal boat men of the Netherlands live possibly the most frugal lives of any of the urban working classes in Europe. They, with their families, exist in the hulls of their craft. The rooms are small, with little ventilation, and necessarily low to enable the boats to pass under the bridges. The decks form the children's playground. Chickens are sometimes kept on the boat and become the rarity.

For Women Who Care

Of course you use an antiseptic in your family and in the care of your own person, and you want the best. Instead of what you have been using such as liquid or tablet antiseptics or peroxide, won't you please try Paxtine, a concentrated antiseptic powder to be dissolved in water as needed.

Paxtine is more economical, more cleansing, more germicidal and more healing than anything you ever used.

Paxtine

In the toilet—to cleanse and whiten the teeth, remove tartar and prevent decay. To disinfect the mouth, destroy disease germs, and purify the breath. To keep artificial teeth and bridgework clean and odorless. To remove nicotine from the teeth and purify the breath after smoking. To eradicate perspiration odors by sponge bathing.

As a medicinal agent for local treatment of feminine ills where pelvic catarrh, inflammation and ulceration exist, nothing equals hot douches of Paxtine. For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co. has been regularly advising their patients to use it because of its extraordinary cleansing, healing and germicidal power. For this purpose alone Paxtine is worth its weight in gold. Also for nasal catarrh, sore throat, inflamed eyes, cuts and wounds. All druggists, 25 and 50 cents a box. Trial box and testimony of 31 women free on request.

Help for the Machinist.

The machinist who uses shaper and milling machines knows the difficulty when making small parts of squaring thin pieces on account of the trouble encountered in setting the piece squarely while tightening the vise. To escape these trials, take a piece of thin steel of proper length and breadth, harden, and magnetize. Place this against the fixed jaw of the vise and it will adhere firmly. When the work is brought in contact with it, the small piece will also adhere and the vise can be clamped to the best advantage. The face of the magnetized strip should be kept free of chips and should be recharged frequently.

At the age of 62, with her children married, she took up painting and she also paints miniatures.

It is a most desirable winter vegetable.

ashore. When he landed he found that one of the Caddaglasses, a Gallowgasser, as they were known in song and story, had the hand of Owen Rue O'Neill in his possession. It was then that O'Neill conferred on him the title of O'Callaghan, which means "Fair Vale with the bloody hand."

In after years many factious fights the O'Callaghans had with the Olivers, the Kinleys and the Teners. When the Cromwellian edict was passed that a Catholic had to go to hell or Connaught, and my great-grandfather did not want to go to either place, he emigrated to Prince Edward's Island. From there the family drifted all over the world. My father's name was Felix O'Callaghan, and my mother's name was Alice Carns. If you care to go to the Carnegie Library and hunt up Burke's Peerage, you will find both names there. The name of O'Callaghan's hereditary sign is "The Arm and Hammer."

While I was born in Maryland, the most of my life has been spent in Westmoreland and Washington counties, this State. I was a member of the legislature when I had my fight with T. V. Powderly, head of the Knights of Labor. I left Westmoreland and came to Washington county. My first political battle here was with Geo. V. Lawrence and if I had not been knifed in the house of my friends, I would have defeated Lawrence who won by only 400 votes.

I was married in 1888 to Ellen M. Hogue, in Loretto, Pa., by Rev. Father O'Shea. Her home, which is still occupied by her family, is on the road leading from Cresson to Loretto. It was a favorite stopping place for Andrew Carnegie and his mother when she lived in her little cottage at Cresson. My wife's mother and Andrew Carnegie's mother were cousins, as was also the well known blacksmith, Joseph Buck of Homestead, whose mother's name was Young, of Scotch ancestry. They settled at Youngstown, Westmoreland county, at a very early date. The love and devotion that Andrew Carnegie had for his aged mother is one of the most striking and beautiful attributes in that singular man's life.

The Hogue family and Schwab family are so intermixed with marriages that they remind me of the Carsons and Coopers of Fallowfield township. I have two daughters, Mary and Esther, born in Charleroi. I have two sons buried at Coal Centre in the Catholic cemetery. So far as my family history is concerned it is part and parcel of the great historic events in the world's history.

When the Pittsburg Post gave a history of seven great Saints, St. Patrick as one of them, was credited with driving the snakes and reptiles out of Ireland. I showed the Post their error and proved that Crete, in Spain and Ireland never had snakes or reptiles. The reproduction of that proof will make interesting reading.
